

Business Summary Report

For quick evaluation of low-balance accounts

One of the biggest challenges in risk management is effectively matching the appropriate level of credit assessment resources to the amount of transaction risk.

“Low risk” and “no risk” are not synonymous

Most companies manage customer transactions of all different sizes. Smaller-balance transactions often receive inadequate scrutiny because traditional credit report services prove cost-prohibitive. However, these transactions still represent risk to your bottom line and can add up fast.

The right level of detail to match the right level of risk

Experian® has developed Business Summary Report, a low-cost summary credit report to help you quickly and effectively assess your low-balance transactions. This one-page report is the cost-effective tool you need to make sound decisions on questionable, smaller accounts.

Designed for use on low-balance accounts

This wealth of data gives you the power to make fast, confident credit decisions on accounts with low balances, for example, less than $1,000. Experian recommends more in-depth report services, such as Experian’s Business Profile Report or IntelliscoreSM, for larger accounts.

The benefits

Credit snapshot

Experian provides a credit snapshot by showing a summary of trade information, indicating the presence or absence of collection data and derogatory public record filings, and classifying them into one of the following categories:

Acceptables — This company is credit-active and pays its bills no later than nine days late on average. There are no derogatory legal records on file for this company.

Caution — This company is credit-active. Due to the current payment performance and/or legal records on file for this company, Experian suggests further investigation based on the credit amount requested.

Or

Caution — This company is not credit-active and therefore may pose a risk. Experian suggests further investigation prior to making credit or business decisions.

Warning — Derogatory payment performance information and/or derogatory legal records exist on file for this company. Fifteen percent of businesses fall into this higher-risk category. Experian recommends further investigation prior to making any credit or business decisions.

Serious risk

Based on seriously derogatory payment performance and/or seriously derogatory legal records on file, Experian strongly recommends further report investigation prior to making any credit or business decisions. Fifteen percent of businesses fall into this higher-risk category.

Bankruptcy — This company has previously filed for bankruptcy.

Note: This credit snapshot does not evaluate the company's historical payment data, payment trends or industry payment comparisons.
