

International Reports

Meticulous global market insight for powerful risk assessments

The flow of business trade around the world has never been so vital, so large or so lucrative. In 2011, U.S. exports totaled $2.1 trillion. China and India are rapidly becoming economic powerhouses; the European Union is dedicated to ensuring long-term, sustainable cross-border trade; and the Americas continue to present enormous opportunities.

However, despite these compellingly favorable trading conditions, doing business with overseas companies presents a unique set of challenges. Without careful consideration, these challenges can quickly lead to loss-making decisions. That's why you need the deepest insight possible into potential international partners.

Experian's International Reports provides you with global information on a wide range of businesses from more than 225 countries. This wealth of information is delivered via BusinessIQ,SM which offers access to businesses around the world.

International Reports are supported through a combination of Experian-owned credit reporting agencies — including our sister companies Serasa in Brazil and Experian in the United Kingdom — that are leaders in their respective markets and a unique industry-leading collaboration of 11 European business information providers.

Experian's International Profiles suite consists of a combination of real-time and developed reports. Each of these services provides in-depth information on businesses.

Real-time report services

Real-time reports are available from countries that actively maintain business credit databases, ensuring you have fresh and relevant information to make accurate business decisions. While there is some variation in report content based on country and size of business in general, these reports include detailed information on businesses, including scores or rating, public record, ownership or corporate structure, financials and management information.

Real-time reports are available for Austria, Belgium, Brazil, Denmark, Finland, France, Germany, Ireland, Netherlands, Norway, Sweden, Switzerland, and the United Kingdom.

Developed Report Service

In some countries, the best way to obtain information is through our Developed Report Service. In these situations, country reports are created upon request. The latest information on a specific business is gathered from a variety of information providers and through direct interviews with the subject company and its suppliers and lenders.

Whether you are checking on an existing customer in South America or processing a new application for Asia, our Developed Report Service can provide the information you need to make sound business decisions.

Developed Reports are available on almost any company in the world.
